Whatever the nature of the incident you were involved in, whether it was a major trauma such as a robbery or a relatively minor thing, such as pickpocketing, other visitors to this website will definitely find it interesting and educational.

What Happened To You?

Here are some questions that might help you while you're writing your personal account of what happened:

- What time of day did it happen?
- Who was involved (Were you by yourself, with family, a friend or maybe a coworker)?
- What exactly happened?
- How did you feel?
- Why do you think you, specifically, were targeted?
- Did you have time to see it coming?
- What do you think you could have done differently?
- Were you injured during the attack?
- Did you suffer from emotional trauma as a result of the incident?

Remember, your story has many unique elements to it that others would love to read about and learn from. By finding out what you did, what you saw and how you felt during the event...

...we can ALL learn to be just a little bit safer in the face of a criminal attack.
